TENYO BRINGS BIGGEST LOT OF PASSENGERS

lines represented Russian consul in Saigon, is en route to France.

Sierra Here Again.

Two hundred and thirty passengers in the first cabin of the Tenyo Maru sailing from Yokohama gives to that of the credit of bringing the largest crowd of passengers that was ever taken out from Yokohama at one time. Peter Lucy Goodrich is all smiles over the record, but modestly disclaims that his own popularity has anything to do with drawing such a list. In addition there are forty-five in the second cabin and 215 in the steerage. There are a few passengers to leave the vessel at its port. Steerage passengers leaving at this port comprise sixty-nine Japanese, 103 Russians, three Chinese and twenty-four Filipinos.

The vessel arrived off port about seven o'clock yesterday afternoon but was nearly two o'clock before she was brought alongside the Alakea pier, from which she will sail for San Francisco this morning at nine a.m. She will discharge 1050 tons of freight overnight.

The Russian immigrants gave the officers a little trouble, complaining somewhat of their quarters and beginning to make trouble almost as soon as they had boarded the vessel.

Among the cabin passengers leaving are Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman, who will make their home in Honolulu, having purchased the handsome residence and grounds of Mr. Schultz of Backfield & Co., in Nuuanu Valley, and several acres of adjoining land in addition. Mrs. Sherman is a Honolulu woman, having formerly been Lorita Kekaha. Mr. Sherman is a wealthy man retired from business, and they propose to make Honolulu their home during a portion of each year.

T. Akai, the new manager of the Tokusha Specie Bank, arrived to replace K. Lokeda, who will leave shortly for New York.

A. Hocking, formerly the head of the Honolulu Brewing and Malting Company and more recently in charge of a brewery in Hongkong, in which considerable Honolulu capital has been invested, also returned, accompanied by Mr. Hocking, Miss Genevieve Hocking, Miss Sybil Hocking, Miss Hazel Hoffman and Miss Florence Hoffman. Mr. Hocking was reported to have returned here to take a hand in the liquor question. When the first man from Hongkong learned the Tenyo Maru at quarantine Mr. Hocking's first question was as to the last quotation on brewery stock and when someone told him it was up he merely said "Oh."

Roderick Dorsey has been the American acting consul in Shanghai in a now en route home to be re-assigned to another post.

J. T. Nicholson, one of the best known men in China, is returning to Honolulu. He was in charge of the Taikak at Hongkong, when an amalgamation was proposed with another trading concern. Mr. Nicholson is reported to have disagreed with this plan and shortly afterward severed his connection with the concern, but as his contract is not up for two years he will spend the time traveling. M. J. Collins has for many years been the purchasing agent of the Santa Fe Railroad at Chengtu.

Sergeant Crooks is not with the Tenyo Maru, having been replaced temporarily by Dr. P. L. Craig. Doctor Craig was laid low with typhoid at Iwahama on the out trip and only after the Tenyo was returning did he successfully pass the crisis. He was dead when Purser Goodrich last saw him although he was but a shadow of his former sturdy self.

S. Kojima, the merchant, has returned to settle up his business affairs, preparing to retire and returning to Japan to reside. Carl Wallace, a comrade who has been playing in Manila, went to play at the Park theater.

G. M. Mollett, a Frenchman, who represented Russian consul in Saigon, is en route to France.

John W. Burdette, a director of the Oceanic Steamship Company, is making a pleasure trip to Honolulu.

The Sierra's freight comprises 1340 tons, including seven autos, six of which are for the von Hamm-Young garage.

The Sierra will leave for San Francisco next Wednesday morning at ten o'clock.

Launches for Pearl Harbor.

A handsome launch, forty-seven feet long, with a nine-foot beam and thirty horse-power engines, has just been launched by the Oahu railroad company car builders for the Hawaiian dredging company. The launch will be put in service at Pearl Harbor, replacing one of Young Brothers' launches which has been used since the dredging began.

The company plans to build a sixty-foot launch with a twelve-foot beam, having a hundred horse power.

ALDEN BESSIE'S CARGO.

Eben Low, who is interested in the Alden Besse, now en route to Honolulu from San Pedro, said yesterday that a portion of the bark's cargo consisted of about 500 barrels of beer.

BUFORD TO MAKE TRIP.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—The transport Buford has been ordered to sail from this port June 16 for Seattle. At that place it will take on board the Sixteenth Infantry, now stationed at Fort Crook, Nebraska, and will then sail for Alaskan ports June 22.

The return trip from the north the Buford will bring back the Twenty-second Infantry and is scheduled to arrive at this port July 21. These troops will then proceed to Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The British steamer Stratgyle arrived from New Zealand yesterday with coal for the Inter-Island company. The vessel commenced discharging within an hour after she went alongside the bunker wharf.

Temporary repairs were made to the American schooner M. Turner at Kahului, enabling the vessel to leave for San Francisco, where she will be dry docked and overhauled. The M. Turner went on the reef outside of Kahului harbor a few weeks ago, but was successfully salvaged.
